PREFACE

This book is written to cater for the requirements of B.Com, BBA, LL.B, MBA, ACMA and CA students as well as professionals and businessmen connected with trade and commerce.

The revised edition includes amendments and developments in the Law. New case law and examples are added in order to make difficult concepts simple and understandable for the reader.

The chapters on labour laws are re-written in the light of various amendments and adoption by provinces. Similarly, respective chapters relating to carriage of goods by sea and air have been revised accordingly.

The provisions of different Acts are presented topic-wise to facilitate the understanding of the subject. Section numbers are given at appropriate places to allow the reader to refer to the relevant Acts for further details. Suitable headings and sub-headings are included so the reader can focus his attention on important aspects of the Law.

Finally, I acknowledge the assistance of friends and colleagues in writing this book. I look forward to helpful comments and opinions for further improvements in this book.
